

Short Courses

The LSMM short courses are intensive and integrated workshops led by our Director and fashion makeup artist, Rebecca Wordingham. They are perfect for makeup beginners looking to familiarise themselves with the industry before completing other courses and experienced working makeup artists looking to grow their skill set.

Our short courses are designed to give insight into the fashion and beauty industry and offer an opportunity to learn intensively in an accelerated period of time. We offer a 3 day and a 5 day workshop that are both suitable for anyone wanting to try out makeup as a career choice or those that would like to develop their skills further. You will learn the skills needed to become a successful fashion and beauty makeup artist, working intensively and collaboratively with your course peers, using each other as models and supporting each other through each module.

If after completion, a student would like to enrol on our Complete Make Up Diploma Course, or our Part-Time Complete Diploma Course they will benefit from a discount off the cost of the diploma course. This makes it the perfect choice for students who wish to try out the school before they commit to long-term training.
